

Women's Collegiate Lacrosse Organization (WCLLO)

Purpose

The purpose of the WCLLO is to advance the sport of non-varsity collegiate lacrosse by assisting the development of participating teams, providing criteria and sanctioning for competition, providing unifying standards for eligibility; providing administrative support; and planning and conducting the WCLLO National Championship Tournament.

Mission

Our mission is to cultivate the growth of and to promote excellence in collegiate women's club lacrosse, to promote the highest standards of competition and sportsmanship, and to provide a consistent administrative and competitive framework for our participating programs.

Vision

- Support and empower our teams.
- Value sportsmanship, integrity and fair play in our game.
- Support the creation of new collegiate club programs.
- Increase the sport's exposure and popularity amongst a wider base of student-athletes, fans and supporters of the game.
- Create and refine rules and governance that affect our sport and our organization.
- Recognize student-athletes for their achievements on and off the field.
- Collaborate with organizations that advance the game and support our mission.
- Secure the financial stability of our organization to enable us to fulfill our mission.

Equity and Inclusion

The WCLLO values equity and inclusion. We commit to diversifying our association and fostering a welcoming environment to all our members regardless of race, ethnicity, gender identity, ability, national origin, color, sexual orientation, and other identities. The WCLLO acknowledges the need for empathy and education in order to understand these issues and better support Black, Indigenous, and other members of color. Our commitment to a diverse, equitable and inclusive culture is reflected in a community in which our differences are embraced, and all members have a sense of belonging.
